

The Etude Club of Berkeley

www.etudeclub.org

The Etude Club of Berkeley, founded in 1904, is an association of music lovers whose objectives are to encourage high musical standards among performing members, to encourage young people in their musical studies, and to stimulate the appreciation of fine music in the community.

Meetings are held at the Hillside Club (2286 Cedar Street, Berkeley), once a month usually on the 4th Monday, at 1 pm from September through May. The meeting includes a musical program performed by members and their guests and is followed with refreshments and socializing.

There are 2 types of membership:

- Performing members join by auditioning for the Auditions Committee. However, the audition may be waived at the Committee's discretion when an applicant has recently performed as an Etude Club guest or has been heard by committee members in another local performance.
- General members do not participate in musical performances, but provide important audience support and participate in all other activities of the Club.

The application form below should be completed, signed by the prospective member, and returned to the Membership Chairman: Estelle Hausman, 1850 Grand View Drive, Oakland, CA 94618.

Please enclose a check for $45 ($22.50 after Feb. 1st), payable to The Etude Club of Berkeley.
